

These are some words set in twelve point Hoefler Text to give an idea of what the page will look like when everything is

Said and done the final work should be something along these lines to be used for settling three page poems

As well as single line poems...

This has been a test of the system

